Ride for Alex Raises $4,600

By Laura Pedulli

He was not supposed to live past of the age of two, but a six-year old boy with a courageous spirit continues to amaze everyone with his resilience.

"His spirit is unbelievable," Tammy Foisy said of Alex Pateakos, who was diagnosed with Spinal Muscular Atrophy (SMA) as a six-month old. "He has broken down barriers."

SMA is a group of inherited diseases that causes progressive muscle degeneration and weakness due to the loss of function of motor neurons. Alex – who currently resides in Marion and attends Sippican Elementary school – cannot walk, talk or eat, thus he requires 24-hour

On Saturday, September 18, the Brad Barrows motorcycle run raised money for Tri-Town youth sports, and on Sunday, September 19, the Ride for Alex poker run raised money to offset medical costs for Alex Pateakos, a Marion boy who lives with Spinal Muscular Atrophy (SMA). assistance. He also uses a ventilator to assist with his breathing.

Four years ago, Ms. Foisy – a nurse who works full time providing in-home care for Alex – decided to organize an event to help the boy's family pay for his care. Over conversation, Ms. Foisy and her husband Scott decided to raise money through an annual Poker Run motorcycle ride touring some of the picturesque backcountry of southern Massachusetts.

In its fourth year, the Ride for Alex raised $4,600 for the Pateakos's family – a small increase over the past three years. Participants enjoyed flawless 73-degree weather and wrapped up the ride on the grounds of Old Rochester Regional High School, where a barbecue was in full swing. The after-ride event also included raffles and a feeling of camaraderie among Alex's family, church and school friends.

"Every year I marvel over the generosity of people, especially in this economy. I still get donations and we do well with the public and businesses," Mr. Foisy said.

Ms. Foisy said the boy's family first detected signs of his condition when he failed to properly swallow as an infant. Alex's mental cognition, however, is as strong as any other child. To communicate, he blinks to indicate 'yes' or 'no' and also utilizes a computer with his fingers, which he still can control to some degree, to communicate his needs.

The latest challenge for the young boy is a recent double-hip surgery, but Ms. Foisy noted that Alex's enthusiasm and zeal for life remains strong. "He is ready and raring to go back to school," she said.

For more information on the Ride for Alex, contact Mr. Foisy at 508-742-8243.

MHS Celebrates Bette Roberts

Mattapoisett Historical Society

By Joan Hartnett-Barry

The 52nd annual meeting of the Mattapoisett Historical Society and Museum took place at the Museum at 5 Church Street, on Sunday, September 19, which just happened to be the birthday of Bette Roberts, the museum's curator of twenty-one years. The festivities celebrated the end of a very successful year of achievements for the Society and Museum. The event was a chance to express gratitude for the valued direction of Ms. Roberts, in leading the organization to its' current success. Bette Roberts joined the organization in 1985 and was elected President of the Society, a position she held for four years before taking on the role of curator, which she has held for 21 years. Members and guests enjoyed a cake and refreshments in Ms. Roberts' honor.

Seth Mendell opened the meeting and held a moment of silence for deceased members of the society and for those in the armed forces who "serve around the globe."

The minutes of the prior year were reported by Jennifer McIntyre, Secretary, noting the many highlights of the year, including the fence work performed by the Mattapoisett Boy Scout Troop, along with the great work of volunteer docents who organized exhibits which included many exhibits that explored life in "old Mattapoisett."

The Curator's report by Bette Roberts, noted that 305 visitors arrived at the museum this summer. The Clifford Ashley mural created much excitement and many came to view it. to continue to make the museum "viewer friendly." Ms. Roberts went down a list of items contributed to the museum this year, including packets of photos from the Francis Millet and Bowles families, gravestone rubbings, old store receipts, a swordfish sword, books, and several paintings.

Seth Mendell reported that the restoration of the Ashley mural would be done by Gianfranco Pocobene, a mural specialist, whose restoration work includes murals hanging in Trinity Church and the Boston Public Library in Boston. Mr. Pocobene gave a prospective time frame of six months to complete the project. The estimated cost of the restoration is $50,000. Fundraising efforts have been started and the society hopes that tri-town residents will contribute to this worthwhile effort.

According to Mr. Mendell, the mural will be placed on the wall, in back of the pulpit, between the two ends of the second floor railing in the church / museum. Plans include raising the 'sound board' and associated chains, above the ministers' pulpit, approximately two feet, to allow a clear view of the entire mural. The mural was given by Mrs. Polly Duff Phipps of Mattapoisett and is possibly the largest single work by the artist. Measuring 6-by-16 feet, the mural details the south coast from the Connecticut River to Cape Cod, including the islands of Martha's Vineyard and Nantucket as it looked in 1810. Clifford Ashley painted the mural in 1919 for his friend Gilbert Hinsdale and the work remained in the family home at 20 Water Street for 90 years. After restoration, the Society and Museum will hold a public event to view the refurbished mural.

bring a new sense of awareness and safety to Tri-Town women and they are starting at the Mattapoisett Council on Aging (COA). The two fitness gurus are inspiring women to give themselves an "edge-ucation" in the event of a possible attack.

Ms. Akins and Ms. Midwood will teach residents how to turn a situation around to take the edge on a potential attacker. They use what they call a "common sense approach" to self-defense.

"You don't need a martial arts trainer with a belt," said Ms. Akins. "You just need to carry yourself with confidence." According to the two teachers, the best defense is just being informed and alert.

The class was started when Ms. Akins' niece had difficulty finding an affordable defense class in the area. "We saw a void," said Ms. Midwood, "and we thought this was one more thing to bring to the community."

In their class, the two instructors work on some simple principles:

- Walk with Confidence, Look Alert – Wherever you are, say Ms. Akins and Ms. Midwood, you must walk with confidence and keep your head high. Look alert and stride with purpose. Walking with purpose, keeping your head high, you are far less likely to be targeted in the first place. The first step of self-defense is making a potential attacker not want to bother with you.

- Be Prepared – When walking to your car, have your keys ready to go, either as a weapon or just ready for the door so you do not have to fumble – time is everything. Be alert and aware of your surroundings at all times. Look for potential exit strategies both when you are out walking and within your own home. “But don’t be obsessed,” joked Ms. Akins – the idea is to be astute, but not consumed by your personal safety.

• Make a Scene – “Who cares if you are embarrassed?” asked Ms. Akins to the classroom full of interested women. “At least you’re not dead. They want a docile victim.” Part of making a scene, as Ms. Akins and Ms. Midwood demonstrated, is yelling “STOP! I don’t know you!” According to the instructors, something this simple can make an attacker “not bother” since they will be taken aback.

Ms. Akins said that this was an instinct that would require practice and re-wiring for most people. Our instinct is to want to be polite to strangers, but if we feel threatened, the first line of "attack" is just making a big scene. The room at the Center School COA echoed for a moment as the women in the class paired up and practiced making a scene.

• Know the Sensitive Spots – Aimlessly beating someone on the shoulder or upper arm will do nothing to stop an attack, said the instructors. Instead, have the presence of mind to make calculated attacks on sensitive areas: namely, the eyes, throat, diaphragm and groin. Ms. Akins said to target the throat, since it interrupts their breathing and gives a chance for escape. They call these injuries the "basic strikes" that will take an attacker off-guard.

• Get Away – Those looking for martial arts should look elsewhere – Ms. Midwood's and Ms. Akins' class focuses on just getting away from a dangerous situation. "We're not teaching you to fight," said Ms. Akins. "And we're not teaching you to [tick] off your attacker. Just get away."

Both of the instructors, experienced in fitness classes, are also regulars at the COAs in the area, but they encourage adults of all ages to participate in their Friday morning classes at 11:15 am. Although they suggest taking three classes, they said that the one free class is enough to give a person the edge in an attack. For more information, call the Mattapoisett COA at 508-758-4110, or email DaraMidwood@yahoo.com.

Conservancy is organizing an International Coastal Cleanup on Saturday, September 25. For the third year, Mattapoisett and Marion are joining more than 350,000 individuals worldwide in 70 countries picking up litter and trash along the coastline.

"I've sailed Buzzards Bay all of my life, so this is very important to me," said Peter McDonald, an Ocean Conservancy volunteer who originally spearheaded the Tri-Town's involvement in the event. Mr. McDonald hopes to encourage locals to do their part. At 10:00 am, volunteers will congregate at Silvershell Beach in Marion and the town beach on Water Street in Mattapoisett for two hours of litter and trash clean up. Each volunteer will carefully document the types of litter recovered for later analysis by the Ocean Conservancy.

In addition to the general aesthetic benefits of a clean beach, the removal of litter and trash lead to an array of advantages. It reduces the amount of toxic material that enters the food chain, helps eliminate sharp objects that injure beachgoers, and removes accident-causing debris that snarls boat propellers. "Trash weakens economies, sapping precious dollars from tourism and our seafood industries. And it harms individual species as well as entire ecosystems, like coral reefs, that are essential for the survival of marine life," Mr. McDonald stated.

Overall, Mr. McDonald said that cigarette butts top the list of trash recovered. According to the Ocean Conservancy, smoking-related activities account for 63 percent of the debris found in Massachusetts. Plastic bags and wrappers were the second highest types of trash retrieved in the state.

One little recognized fact is the great distances trash can travel and the often-fatal consequences to marine wildlife. "If you throw a cigarette out of the car on I-495, it'll end up on the beach," Mr. McDonald said. He also recalled a story of a grocery store bag from Memphis, Tennessee found in a dead sea turtle in the Gulf of Mexico. "The bag traveled down the Tennessee River, then the Mississippi River into the Gulf. A sea turtle ate it in the Gulf and died. That is why we have to pick up trash – it does kill animals," he said.

The Ocean Conservancy's cleanup effort in Massachusetts – dubbed CoastSweep – is under the direction of the University of Massachusetts' Urban Harbors Institute (UHI) and the Massachusetts Office of Coastal Zone Management. Organizations including the New England Aquarium, the Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation, and the Massachusetts

Department of Coastal Zone Management, as well as the general public, funded the logistical arrangements for the event.

According to UHI, more than 3,000 volunteers came out to clean-up shorelines and waterways in Massachusetts last year. Volunteers covered 140 miles, picking up over 117,000 debris items that weighed 22,399 pounds.

Mr. McDonald is actively seeking volunteers to roll up their sleeves and join this year's clean-up efforts. If interested, he can be reached at 508-748-0286 or peterconverse.compass@gmail.com. Bags, gloves and data cards will be provided on the site.

Work Resumes on New Zoning Bylaws

Marion Planning Board

By Laura Pedulli

A regular meeting of the Marion Planning Board was called to order by Chairman Jay Ryder on Tuesday, September 20 at 7:15 pm in the Marion Town Hall. Also present were board members Joseph Napoli, Tom Magauran, Steve Gonsalves, John Sweeney, Ray Crowley, Sherman Briggs and Planning Board Secretary Terri Santos.

The primary agenda item involved the 2015 Committee recommendations, which include the establishment of new bylaws encouraging mixed use development through new neighborhood overlay districts (NODs). Mr. Ryder noted that the Selectmen are meeting to discuss the 2015 Committee's work in general and possibly appoint two new members. He said three other individuals also expressed interested in getting involved with the committee. "The more people who get involved and the more effort to get support for an NOD is a good thing," Mr. Ryder said.

Vice Chairman Magauran then provided a background behind the work of the 2015 Committee. Essentially, he said the committee created a final report in 2007 that in part evolved from Marion's Growth Management Report in 1996. He said the work attempted to establish, "where the town would be, should be and could be."

Mr. Magauran explained that the Board of Selectmen established a panel to look at recommendations in the report that have a financial impact. Work related to the Planning Board included the establishment of mixed-use districts in certain parts of Marion for the purpose of adding density and increasing the town's tax base. The board would consider "what kind of linkages would be okay and not suck life out of the village ... [and] a new NOD bylaw framework to accomplish density while not jeopardizing zoning standards and putting the town's character at risk," Mr. Magauran said.

The board had tabled bylaws establishing a mixed-use NOD last spring with the decision to spend more time crafting them and garnering public and private support. Mr. Magauran stressed the importance of establishing new zoning bylaws so the town can shape future development. "What I learned in the Cumberland Farms [case], is that if it is not in a bylaw, then you cannot hold [a developer] to it. We have our work cut out for us to put more objective criteria in place," he said, noting that the board hopes to prepare bylaws for vote by the spring town meeting. "We don't need a 14-page section – that intimidates folks. We only need a few small substantive changes, things like mixing uses, reducing setbacks and allowing more shared access ways," he said.

To more objectively assess how certain development would financially impact the town, Mr. Magauran suggested that the Planning Board work with the Finance Committee to establish the bylaws. "A critical piece is getting real numbers," he said, noting that Marion will inevitably incur expenses with the need to upgrade the Town Hall and Department of Public Works buildings, in addition to other capital needs. Mr. Ryder added that the board aspires for a broad range of support from all local boards.

Ms. Crowley then expressed the need to further communicate with local businesses about the bylaws' impact. "We must include local merchants a great deal more than last time," she said. Mr. Magauran noted that merchants often do not express their views because they wish to avoid upsetting their customers.

Some talk also surrounded the possibility of new bylaws that would protect small businesses from new development coming in, such as a larger chain bookstore displacing a locally-owned book shop. Mr. Magauran suggested the requirement that applications assess a new development's positive and negative impacts on local businesses. Mr. Briggs, however, cautioned against establishing rules that local businesses do not follow themselves and hence creating a double standard. "We have to be careful. We don't want to self-destruct ourselves," he said.

Mr. Ryder stressed that the board has "a long winter" to firm up the bylaws and encouraged interested parties to weigh in. Some ideas – including Mr. Gonsalves' suggestion to post notices of the meetings on the bulletin

TICK SEASON

Both my cat and dog are coming into the house with lots of ticks. I thought that the ticks would disappear now that fall is here.

Unfortunately, ticks like cool weather. Tick season peaks in spring and fall however some ticks can be found in the summer and even in the winter if the temperature is mild.

So what can I do to protect my pet from all of these ticks?

The two main products available that are effective against ticks are Frontline for use on dogs and cats and Advantix for dogs only, both are available through your veterinarian.

What diseases can these ticks transmit?

Dogs are susceptible to Lyme Disease and Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever while cats may develop Hemobartinnella or feline infectious anemia.

board on Route 6 – were discussed to enhance public knowledge and possible participation in the board's work. The board also briefly entertained an idea for a call-in period during the live ORCTV broadcast of the board meetings to hear concerns and ideas.

"Time out. This is not going to work. I listen to a lot of talk radio, and a lot of people are in their own universe, and they already are cracking open the beers," Mr. Ryder joked, and the idea was put to rest.

The chairman then encouraged anyone in the village who has concerns to attend board meetings or submit a letter outlining his or her thoughts. "I remind people that this is America. We had a lot of youth die for that freedom," Mr. Napoli added.

The board had no meeting minutes to approve. However, it did approve a $14,000 invoice for the 2015 final report prepared by Cornish Associates. The board also approved an invoice for $945 from Cornish on its design review work for an application seeking to expand the Cumberland Farms, which the board had rejected at its September 7 meeting.

With no other items on the agenda, the board voted to adjourn at 8:00 pm.

Appeals was called to order by Susan Akin on September 16, 2010 at 6:00 pm at the Mattapoisett Town Hall. Also present were committee members Norman Lyonnais, Paul Milott, Gene Deslandes, Susan Akin, Marie Bacon and Mattapoisett Building Inspector Andrew Bobola. Chairperson Jeffrey Chase did not attend.

For the first public hearing, David Davignon of Schneider and Associates presented a Special Permit application on behalf of Simon and Lauren Kavanagh that requested permission to demolish an existing dwelling and construct a new single-family dwelling at 8 Highland Avenue, Point Connett. The new residence would be approximately 3,000 square feet, which is about triple the size of the current structure, and increase the lot coverage by five percent for a total 20 percent coverage. Six abutters – three present at the meeting – expressed support for the Kavanaghs through letters and testimony. The board approved the Special Permit 5-0 due to the widespread support from neighbors.

The final two Special Permits, presented by Douglas Schneider of Schneider and Associates, involved the proposed construction of two single-family dwellings on two adjacent lots: one at the corner of Mattapoisset Neck Road and Windward Way and the other at the corner of Shore View Avenue and Windward Way. Applicants Diane Normand and Rene Rock also sought to formally separate the adjoining lots because under the town's bylaws, two contiguously held lots that share an owner are considered one lot. The separation of lots would allow the applicants to obtain two sewer stubs for each lot, among other considerations.

With the recognition that the applicants already pay taxes for each lot separately, the board unanimously voted to approve the separation of lots. Due to an inaccuracy of the cited sections of the Mattapoisset zoning bylaws in the application, the board also voted to amend it to properly refer to Section 6.2.2 in place to Section 6.2.1.

Overall, the board voted twice to officially allow the construction of two separate single-family homes for each of the lots.

With nothing left on the agenda, the board voted to adjourn at 6:43 pm.

Mattapoissett Planning Board

By Anne O'Brien-Kakley

A regular meeting of the Mattapoissett Planning Board was called to order by Chairman Thomas Tucker on September 20, 2010 at 7:00 pm. Also in attendance were board members John Mathieu, Karen Field, Robert McNamara and Ronald Merlo, and planning board secretary Tammy Ferreira.

In the first meeting of the night, the board met with Roland Cote, tree warden, in regards to two Norway Maples located at 66 North Street. The owners of the property, Mark and Nancy Keighley, had sent a letter to the board, citing many reasons why the trees should be cut down. Among those reasons was that the two trees have been cut back by NStar so many times that they were "anything but scenic" and "could literally crash through the front door" during the next big storm. Four of the planning board members were familiar with the trees and could concur that the trees were not aesthetically pleasing.

According to Mr. Cote, he found the request "very acceptable" and the board voted to approve the removal of the two trees.

The Board then continued a public hearing for a proposed Pine Island Subdivision, located at 2 Pine Island Road. The proposed subdivision would make four lots at the 5.62-acre property, owned by Greta and Timothy Fox, though the board made it clear that they were specifically dealing with two "conceptual" lots for building, not the two ANR-approved lots near the entrance.

Chairman Tucker urged the audience to address new issues and to not revisit previously made comments, especially in regards to drainage and wetlands, which fall under the purview of the Conservation Commission (ConCom).

Engineer Dave Davignon of Schneider and Associates was again available to discuss the updated plans, which he said addressed a bulleted list of design concerns, mainly drainage related, that had been presented by third party peer-reviewer Field Engineering. A gravel roadway remained in the plans.

"This is consistent with what has been approved in the past in the town of Mattapoisett," said Mr. Davignon, who pointed out that the communities of Point Connett and Antassawamock are both serviced by gravel roads.

Former owner of the 2 Pine Island property, Beth Underwood, was present to express her concerns regarding the proposed subdivision. Ms. Underwood said that when she sold the property to Mr. and Ms. Fox, the same engineering firm (Schneider and Associates) had told her that the property was all wetlands and therefore would likely never have more than a single home built upon it. Ms. Underwood expressed concern with the discrepancy with what she had been told previously, and what the applicants were now planning.

According to Mr. Davignon, many of the previous drainage concerns had been addressed with swales and uplands, but the concern of those in the audience, including abutters Charles Motta and Bob Kelly, was that the swales would not function properly, or would not be adequately maintained despite a town-required covenant.

"This is the kind of growth that comes up in Florida," said Mr. Kelly, referring to the growth that currently exists at the proposed lots. "[If this is approved], we're going to have to get lawyers and deal with somebody... We don't want our property harmed."

Upon request from Ms. Field, Mr. Davignon clarified the wetlands proportion of the two conceptual lots: one, he said, is approximately one-third wetlands, while the other is approximately one-half wetlands.

Drainage and wetlands issues prevailed as the main concern of the audience, but Chairman Tucker continued to remind speakers that the planning board's main concern was zoning, since ConCom's hearing would deal with drainage and wetlands.

Resident Bill Madden informed the board that he believed the proposed application was still a violation of Mattapoisett bylaws and, if the board chose to close public comment, they would likely have to reopen the comment portion of the hearing. In a letter to the board, Mr. Madden claimed that the lots created in the Pine Island subdivision plan violated frontage bylaws, but he could not produce any measurements to prove his theory.

Since there were no more zoning-related comments in the audience, the Board voted to close the public comment portion of the hearing for Pine Island Estates, 4-0-1, with Mr. Merlo having to abstain since he was not present for the first public hearing.

In the deliberation process that followed the public hearing, the board discussed several concerns regarding the application, including the six waivers that the applicant had requested. Among those waivers were road width, road material (gravel) and sidewalk requirements.

Even though he could not vote on the ultimate decision, Mr. Merlo stated that he thought two lots were too much, and the proposed project should only include one lot.

Mr. Mathieu expressed favor for some of the waivers, including the sidewalk waiver, since there are no sidewalks on Pine Island Road and requiring a sidewalk on a side street would actually make the street stand out more and would detract from Mattapoisett's "rural" nature.

After preliminary deliberations were complete, the board voted to grant the six zoning-related waivers, which included: a waiver to reduce street width from 24 feet to 16 feet (as long as there is a four-foot shoulder on either side), a sidewalk waiver, a waiver allowing the turning circle to be closer to the proposed homes and a

These waivers will be sent to Mattapoisett ConCom for comment, and the planning board will make a decision based on such comment. Upon formal request from Mr. Davignon, the Board voted to grant an application extension to November 5, and then voted to continue the hearing until October 4.

After voting to approve the minutes of the August 16 meeting, the board voted to adjourn at 9:24 pm.

Marion Board of Selectmen

By Anne O'Brien-Kakley

A regular meeting of the Marion Board of Selectmen was called to order on September 21, 2010 at 6:30 pm by Chairman Roger Blanchette. Also in attendance were Selectmen Jonathan Henry and Stephen Cushing, Town Administrator Paul Dawson and Assistant to the Selectmen Debra Paiva.

The minutes of the September 7 meeting were approved.

In the first appointment of the evening, the Board met with Town Counsel Jon Witten in regards to correspondence recently received from Bay Watch Realty Trust's attorney Theodore C. Regnante, addressing the town's request to the state to uphold the full Environmental Impact Report (EIR) for the proposed 168-unit affordable housing complex slated for construction on Route 105 (Front Street), despite the applicant's reduction in scope of project.

Massachusetts Environmental Policy Act (MEPA) secretary Ian Bowles had denied the request from the town to uphold the EIR, and in his letter, Atty. Regnante claims that the town was making a "coordinated effort to block affordable housing in Marion" by requesting an EIR, and by expressing interest in filing a Notice of Appeal. Additionally, Atty. Regnante claimed that the Board had given their word that they would not interfere with the application, and said that they would be breaching the deal by filing a notice of appeal.

Under a Notice of Appeal, the Board does not appeal any specific decision from MEPA, but protects the town's right to appeal individual permit applications in the future if they deem it necessary. All three members of the Board expressed interest in having the affordable housing built in Marion, but wanted to protect the town's interests.

"The Board of Selectmen have never made any 'deal' with this applicant," refuted Atty. Witten. The Board agreed that they had never made any agreement, written or otherwise, in regards to the applicant's process with MEPA.

"This is going to be tough," said Chairman Blanchette. "Atty. Regnante has been lied to by his clients... it's unfortunate... threats or no threats, I still think we should file an appeal."

"I've never seen a municipality threatened like this," said Atty. Witten. "It's chilling... [these are] unacceptable accusations." Further, Atty. Witten suggested that the applicant might be setting the stage for a serious civil rights action.

"I'm all for affordable housing," said Chairman Blanchette, "but it has to be done right... It's simple, common sense that we file a Notice of Appeal."

To clarify the Board's intents, Selectman Cushing added: "This just reserves our right to appeal something in the future." Bay Watch Realty Trust would still have to seek local permits for a sewer extension, curb cuts and possibly financing.

Not acting would "foreclose" the Board from being able to make any appeals with MEPA, said Atty. Witten, who advised the Board to continue with the Notice of Appeal despite the "bullying tactics" from the applicant and Atty. Regnante.

Selectman Henry expressed hesitation, wanting to process the letter and not "shoot from the hip". He requested Atty. Witten to reply to the applicant's letter in a way that would not be inflammatory or provocative. "We're not trying to duck our responsibility," he said. "We're not trying to thwart the project. We've negotiated in good faith with them."

Despite his reservations, Selectman Henry voted along with Chairman Blanchette and Selectman Cushing to file the Notice of Appeal, thereby reserving the town's right to appeal in the future. At their next meeting, the Board will hear a drafted letter of response from Atty. Witten to the applicant.

The Board then continued a dog hearing from the August 17, 2010 meeting. At the previous meeting, Louis Lucio, owner of a beagle named "Oliver" at 4 Job's Cove, answered to the Board and neighbors in regards to repeated barking disturbances from his dog. After the owner gave his word that the dog would never disturb the neighborhood again, the Board agreed to continue the hearing to see if the problem would resolve before they had to make a decision.

Mr. Dawson said that he was "sad to report" that there had been five more complaints in the 30 days since the dog hearing, with the majority of the disturbance calls taking place in the late evening and early morning hours. When Animal Control Officer Susan Connor visited the house most recently, a woman who identified herself as "Linda" said that she would be getting rid of the dog soon, but as recently as the September 21 meeting, the dog was still present at the residence.

With both the neighbors and the dog owner absent from the continued hearing, there was no public comment. The Board closed the public comment portion of the hearing and voted to banish the dog from the town, giving Mr. Lucio 15 days from the day of notification to comply with the order.

In the next public hearing, the Board met with Barry Maffini of Verizon for a pole hearing. The Board voted to accept a utility pole for Little Neck Village, located on Wareham Street.

Next on the agenda, the Board continued a hearing from a September 7 meeting for Cumberland Farms' application for tank expansion at their location at 406 Wareham Road on the southern corner of Route 6 and Front Street.

At a recent meeting, the Planning Board rejected Cumberland Farms' application to expand the location; despite this rejection, the business still wanted to expand the tanks, making them double-walled and designed to include a diesel compartment. The proposed project would remove the three 8,000-gallon tanks and replace them with two 20,000-gallon tanks.

Marion Planning Board Chairman Jay Ryder urged the Board to project a sense of unity with the planning board by denying the application for larger tanks. "I feel this is sending the wrong message... I feel strongly about that," said Mr. Ryder. "I'm in favor of replacing the tanks that are there, but I'm not in favor of doubling their capacity."

Both Chairman Blanchette and Selectman Henry thought that replacing the tanks and increasing their capacity could be beneficial to the town since the proposed tanks have an improved design and would reduce the amount of deliveries required at the location.

Tom Magauran expressed ultimate concern that the tanks would not be placed in the rear section of the property. Mr. Dawson pointed out that replacing the tanks could be considered a public safety issue and could limit the Board's ability to deny the replacement.

The Board voted to continue the public hearing to October 19 at 7:05 pm to give Cumberland Farms representatives the chance to address some of the placement concerns.

After a lengthy discussion regarding town liability and sewer capacity, the Board then voted to approve a sewer extension for Bay Watch Realty Trust with the understanding that the extension would not trigger a consent order and a discharge permit violation from the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection (DEP). By voting with this caveat, Town Counsel Jon Witten said that the Selectmen would be protecting the town if there ended up not being enough sewer capacity for the applicant.

Under Action items, the Board:

- Approved a one-day, all-alcohol license for the Marion Social Club on October 2, 2010.
- Signed a contract for the public health nurse.
- Signed a water commitment in the amount of $313.83.
- Signed a water commitment in the amount of $990.96.

The Bulldogs will get their chance to prove themselves at the Friday, September 24 game against Bourne high school. The ORR/Bourne varsity football game will take place in Bourne at 7:00 pm on September 24.

week, with two significant victories under their belt. On September 13, the golf team beat Apponequet Regional with a final score of 34.5 to 19.5, and the next day defeated Greater New Bedford Regional Vocational Technical High School 40 to 14.

The Lady Bulldogs soccer game against New Bedford High School on September 13 resulted in another loss for ORR, with a final score of 5 to 0. However, the girls' soccer team turned it around nicely on Monday this week when they defeated the Apponequet Lakers in a SouthCoast conference win, 2-1. The girls will get a chance to bounce back from their New Bedford loss when they play them again on September 25.

ORR girls' Field Hockey had a great week. A September 15 game against Bourne resulted in a 3-0 win for ORR; likewise, ORR was victorious over Seekonk on September 16, 3-0, and against East Bridgewater on September 20, 3-0. Is 3-0 their magic number? Let's find out on September 24 when they play Dighton-Rehoboth.

First, there has been a change this year in the school's method of posting the daily announcements. In the past years, the transcript from the morning intercom notices has been posted on the school calendar on the ORRHS website. This year, however, students will have to access the PowerSchool program. (Freshmen should also be aware that PowerSchool, which can be found at powerschool.orr.mec.edu, is the method by which students and parents can check grades and attendance throughout the year). When logged into PowerSchool, the daily notices can be viewed by clicking one of the buttons in the navigation bar that says "School Bulletin." From that page, students and parents can select the date for the announcements that they want to view. Students are encouraged by the front office to check the school bulletin every day so that they may be fully aware of events and deadlines in the school.

Second, both students and parents should be aware that starting September 22, the Nutrikids point-of-sale program will be up and running. Already there is some confusion among the students about this program. The common concern is whether cash will be accepted by the cafeteria – which it will, as the Director of Food Services, Ms. Souza, has said that a completely cash-less system in the cafeteria would be impossible. However, according to the notice passed out in homeroom and the announcement made by school principal Mr. Devoll, all students who buy food with cash will still have to log in at the register using their Nutrikids account. For that reason, all students are asked to memorize their student ID number. This should be an easy feat since it is the same number that allows students to access the school computers and to log in to PowerSchool.

Students are also allowed to prepay for their lunches and snacks using the Nutrikids program. There are three ways that a parent or guardian can add money to a student's account. First, they can go to www.mynutrikids.com and make a transaction online. Second, they can give the school a check (made out to ORR School Lunch) with the child's name in the memo field. Third, cash can be sent to school in a sealed envelope with the child's name and grade on it. To help facilitate the loading of money onto the Nutrikids accounts, the following prices have been totaled for parents: lunch costs $2.50 a day, and it costs $12.50 for a week. Parents and guardians may load as much or as little money as they wish at a time, but prepaid funds will not be available until September 22.

ORR Open House

Old Rochester Regional High School will host the Second Annual Community Open House on October 28 from 6:00 to 8:00 pm. The event is once again being offered to all members of the Tri-Town community, and especially those families of younger children who otherwise may not know the opportunities that the high school has to offer. ORRHS hopes to attract those who live, work or own a business in the area to visit the high school, see the highlights of each academic department and view presentations of students engaged in the arts, music, technology and extracurricular areas that the school community is so proud of.

The evening will have events staggered throughout. This year, the high school will host a Pasta Dinner for Tri-Town senior citizens beginning at 4:30 pm in the cafeteria, fun activities for children, and the opportunity to learn more about the First Annual Old Rochester Regional Bulldog Dash to be held in November. All members of the Tri-Town community are encouraged to attend the open house on October 28 to see the facilities and programs that ORR has to offer.

finding out there are people across the Southcoast that may not have either.

On Saturday, September 11, approximately 40 children from Marion Pack 32 Boy, Cub and Girl Scout troops, along with a dozen parents, met at New Bedford's Gifts To Give to lend a hand to a worthy cause.

Gifts to Give, located on Cove Street in New Bedford, is a non-profit agency that helps connect children and families to services that they need. They provide clothing, toys, books, infant supplies and school supplies to families in need through a referral service.

The Scouts spent many hours sorting clothing while also gaining an appreciation for those who are far less fortunate than themselves.

James Stevens, founder and owner of Gifts to Give, was also on hand to help the group and educate the children and adults to the extent homelessness has reached for many families and children alike, not only in the country but in the state and the local Southcoast region.

"While you are standing in the warehouse listening to Jim talk about the unbelievable number of kids in the South Coast who are homeless, and then while you are working there and experience how much work is required to process all of the toys, clothing and books...it really hits you just how important Gifts to Give is, as well as the importance of volunteering there," said Marion Scout Master Doug Breault. "During Jim's talk, you could tell by the looks on the scouts' faces that child homelessness was something they had never considered possible before that moment."

Terri Villa, a Webelos I Scout mom who helped coordinate the event, said it was a prior experience volunteering at Gifts To Give with her own children that opened her eyes to surprising statistics of child homelessness and their growing plight. It was something tailor-made for the Scouts to take part in.

"Jim from Gifts to Give speaks with such compassion that you can't help but want to be involved," she said. "It was such an overwhelming feeling to watch not only the scouts' faces but the parents as well, as we learned that the average age of a homeless person is eight-years-old!" said Ms. Villa. "The Boy and Girl Scouts put their heart and soul into helping organize and clean the donations. I truly think we all left there realizing that we can make a difference."

improvement in picture quality is remarkable. The glass lantern slide process was developed in Germany in the 1850s and provided a popular diversion for the public. This particular set features Mattapoisett and the surrounding towns circa 1900. The slides have been handed down from generation to generation and most recently, our good friend Francis Rowland gave them to Seth for his use.

Used Book Church Fundraiser

Want to get rid of your used books? The Community Baptist Church of Marion is raising money through donations of new and used books, CDs, DVDs, videos, records and audiobooks. The group has recently placed a drop-off donation container to collect these items from community members who would like to repurpose their used goods while also helping the church raise money. The group will be paid on an ongoing basis for all items collected in their donation container.

The gray book donation container is located in the parking lot of the church at 441 Front Street in Marion. This program is an ongoing fundraiser and donations can be made by the public at any time. All money raised through the collection of these donations will help fund the church's local mission projects, which focus on children living in poverty. These projects have included Babypoint of Wareham, Donovan House of New Bedford, Sippican School in Marion and Rochester Memorial School in Rochester.

• Peter Michael Martin – Mattapoisett artist Peter Michael Martin has been a part of the New Bedford Open Studios for all six years. For nearly 30 years, Mr. Martin has been producing folk art, including paper cutting. His paper cut prints are reminiscent of folk art and stencils, and his current line-up of paper cuts depict sites that are “indigenous” to his area, like birds and fish.

In his youth, Mr. Martin studied folk art in Poland. Most recently, he studied “white-line” wood block carvings. Using a block of wood, Mr. Martin carves a picture or scene, and then bit-by-bit, he watercolors the block and transfers it to paper. Although the block carving stays the same, each piece he produces is completely unique, since color choice and saturation varies from print to print. According to Mr. Martin, this white-line method is credited to 1920’s Provincetown artist BJO Nordfeldt.

In the summer of 2009, Mr. Martin studied this woodblock method with Provincetown artist Bill Evaul, and has been using the unique method to create scenes depicting Mattapoisett scenes, like Ned’s Point and Crescent Beach. Mr. Martin, who has been a regular Santa Fe, NM visitor for the past 36 years, also uses the method to depict scenes from New Mexico.

Mr. Martin, a retired Old Rochester Regional high school teacher, will be featured at 284 Acushnet Avenue in New Bedford during the Open Studios weekend.

• Adrian Johnson – Marion artist Adrian Johnson

produces beauty from junk, ultimately making a statement about what he calls “awareness of overconsumption in our society.” He produces a “novelty art item” that he calls the Fridge Couch.

Starting with an old refrigerator – preferably one that looks retro – Mr. Johnson carves out a cavity and leaves the shell of the old refrigerator. Then, he looks for old, stylish car seats to fill the cavity that he has carved out. After he polishes up the final product, one would never be able to tell that the resulting piece of furniture was essentially made from garbage.

Mr. Johnson’s art form relies on re-purposing bulky material that is useless to everyone else but him. The refrigerators he picks are often roadside junk that no longer function. The seats often come from junkyards or classified ads. The resulting piece is functional and yes, beautiful, especially considering the ingenuity behind its creation.

“I wanted to come up with something that no one had ever done before,” said Mr. Johnson. The resulting Fridge Couch has been on display at the monthly AHA! nights in New Bedford, and will be on display at the Cummings Building, located at 96-100 William Street in New Bedford, during Open Studios weekend. Examples of the Fridge Couch can also be viewed at www.FridgeCouch.com.

• Diane Rappisi – Rochester artist Diane Rappisi has been creating drawings and paintings nearly her whole life, and is particularly drawn towards people and portraits. After raising three girls, Ms. Rappisi returned to school to study art full-time at Philadelphia’s Studio Incamminati. Her current portrait work is considered in the “realist tradition”.

“I still love working with the figure, and I teach figure drawing and painting at North River Arts Society,” said Ms. Rappisi. “I find the South Coast area just so incredibly beautiful, the landscape irresistible and I am often outside painting en plein air. I am looking forward to autumn colors!”

Some of Ms. Rappisi’s work can be seen at HatchStreetStudios.com/artists/DianaRappisi – make sure you visit her display at Open Studios weekend as well. Her work will be displayed in the studios at 88 Hatch Street in New Bedford.

On Saturday, October 2, Open Studios will run from 10:00 to 5:00 pm; on Sunday, October 3, it will run from 11:00 to 5:00 pm. For those who can’t wait, there is a preview show currently running at Gallery X, located at 169 William Street in New Bedford. For full line-up and locations, please visit www.NewBedfordOpenStudios.org.

The opening reception will be held on Sunday, October 3 from 4:30 to 6:00 pm. The portraits were taken in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Marion Book Study Group in October. The photographs by Judith Rosbe feature a large silhouette of each member superimposed on a page of text from a book she has selected that the group has read. The installment promotes reading and the library's many programs. Photo courtesy of the Elizabeth Taber Library.

MOVIE REVIEW

Teacher's Pet

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Easy A. Starring Emma Stone and Penn Badgley.
Directed by Will Gluck. Running time: 93 minutes.
MPAA rating: PG-13.

Local audiences for Easy A might appreciate a joke near the beginning, wherein the high-school team is called the Blue Devils, just like ours in Fairhaven. Someone religious objects to the team's name, just as happened in Fairhaven a number of years ago. We, however, were not obliged to change our name to the Woodchucks, as the movie's team is. We dodged a bullet there.

Easy A is the story of a girl who, to paraphrase Kurt Vonnegut, is not careful about who she pretends to be. Olive Penderghast (Emma Stone) is a smart, witty high-school virgin who allows various outcasts -- a gay kid, a chubby kid, etc. -- to claim they've slept with her, thus improving their rep while degrading her own. For a while, this doesn't bother Olive; she has a strong sense of who she really is, and when the school's cadre of young Bible-thumpers shun her, she takes it as almost a badge of pride. Complications, of course, ensue.

We're not looking at a masterwork here, but it's amiable as hell, with effortless comic turns by Stanley Tucci and Patricia Clarkson as Olive's hip parents. Indeed, almost every adult in the movie -- Thomas Haden Church as a snarky English teacher, Lisa Kudrow as a guidance counselor with problems of her own -- is presented affectionately and respectfully, with lives outside the narrative. (The exception is Malcolm McDowell as the hardcase principal, but this is forgiven because the mere thought of the erstwhile star of If... as a principal speaks ironic volumes.) We are not in the territory of John "When you grow up, your heart dies" Hughes, to whose movies Easy A explicitly genuflects.

The style, via director Will Gluck, is loose and conventional (aside from the odd opening credits, which hide in the background of shots and will likely be nearly unreadable on TV). It's a pop song of a movie -- a pop riff on The Scarlet Letter, through which vehicle the film tries to make salient points about how female sexuality is viewed with a leer or a scowl, while male sexuality is shrugged at. It's true that some plot aspects feel too tightly wrenched into place: when was the last time any Christian group held any sway in a public school, particularly one in California? The Bible-thumpers are there to create conflict (and to provide a parallel to Hester Prynne's travails), but secular teenage girls can be quite viciously judgmental all by themselves, as Mean Girls proved. Okay, so Bert V. Royal (the credited scribe here) is no Tina Fey, and Emma Stone is no Lindsay Lohan -- luckily for her. Stone, making her starring debut after several supporting roles, has a deep, no-nonsense voice and a way of delivering her fast, witty dialogue that suggests her brain works just as fast. Now that Lohan seems to have imploded, Stone might be Hollywood's new go-to girl for smart, appealing young heroines who can also get laughs. Easy A is sweet enough balm, but it may herald an arrival.

American use of local rivers for trade. The concept of watersheds will be discussed, as the trip starts in one watershed going upriver to a region of interconnected ponds and lakes, then downriver through a different watershed. SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Personal matters claim a good deal of the Lamb's time in the early part of the week. But by midweek, pragmatic considerations (work, school, job-seeking, etc.) begin to take priority.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The seasonal shift ignites the Bovine's creative aspects. You could do well if you try to combine your penchant for innovation with the more pragmatic demands of the week.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Ideas come easily to you this week. And never mind that some might suggest they're unworkable and/or impractical. It's your vision that counts. Work them out and see what turns up.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Personal matters continue to dominate the early part of the week. By midweek, more workaday issues once again begin to emerge. Balance your time to give both the attention they need.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A new contact could provide an expanded opportunity. But be sure you get all the facts before you consider signing on. Ask questions, and be wary if you don't get the right answers.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) An unexpected development could cause some supposedly resolved disagreements to reignite. Deal with the situation before it leads to some really serious problems.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A clash of work-linked viewpoints needs to be discussed openly, honestly and calmly by all concerned before it can impede progress on an ongoing project.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) The Scorpion's pragmatic side helps you accept the possibility that a change of plans might be the wise thing to do. Be sure to weigh all your considerations carefully.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Some people might not take no for an answer. Never mind. Keep your resolve if you're sure you don't want to be involved in a potentially sticky situation.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) All other facts and figures aside, it's what you learn about potential colleagues that can be most helpful in assessing any decisions you're likely to make regarding a new project.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You might want to reconsider some of your outside commitments if they continue to demand more time than you can spare. Be honest with yourself when making a decision.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Pay attention to that inner voice of Piscean wisdom counseling you to remove those rose-colored glasses and take an honest look at any decisions you might face this week.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a penchant for persuasion that would make you a fine candidate for a political career.

Has Cancer Struck Someone You Love?

The American Cancer Society Relay for Life is a life-changing event that gives everyone in communities across the globe a chance to celebrate the lives of people who have battled cancer, remember loved ones lost, and fight back against the disease. People who take part in Relay also raise much-needed funds and awareness that help the American Cancer Society save lives and create a world with more birthdays – where cancer can never claim another year of anyone's life.

The American Cancer Society's Relay For Life of Tri-Town wrapped up the 2010 season on August 31. This year, Relay raised over $69,000 to support cancer survivors, patient services, research and advocacy, thanks

Elizabeth Taber Library

• Judith Rosbe Portraits – The Elizabeth Taber Library in Marion proudly presents the collage portraits of Judith Rosbe during the month of October 2010. The opening reception will be held on Sunday, October 3 from 4:30 to 6:00 pm.

The portraits were taken in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Marion Book Study Group in October. Founded in 1985 by former Marion resident, Eleanor Hartstone (now deceased) and Dagmar Unhoch, the book group has met continuously since 1985. As several members moved away or died, the group has added members, but many of its original members are still in the book group.

Originally, the group concentrated on reading and discussing the classics. Members take turns as hostesses and meetings are held the third Tuesday of each month. Some of the members leave Marion for the winter months, so all 19 of the members have never been at one meeting at the same time. Currently, the book group mostly reads contemporary fiction; however at its anniversary meeting in October, it will discuss the classic, The Bostonians, by Henry James. On a few occasions, the group has read non-fiction, but concentrates on fiction. At each meeting, one of the members is assigned to suggest several books for an upcoming meeting and the members vote on which book to read next. The only requirement is that the book be out in paperback, though several members are now reading books electronically on Kindles or iPads. Only members who have read the monthly selection are encouraged to come to the monthly discussions.

Several years ago, one of the group's members suggested that the book group become a "giving circle," and each month an envelope is passed for donations. When the amount reaches $500, the group votes on an organization or cause to donate the money to.

The photographs by Judith Rosbe feature a large silhouette of each member superimposed on a page of text from a book she has selected that the group has read. Within the silhouette is a half-figure of the member holding her favorite book. In addition to promoting reading, members hope to highlight the valuable resource the Elizabeth Taber Library is to our community.

• Tales for Twos, a seven-week series of storytimes for children between the ages of 24 and 39 months, begins October 6 at the Elizabeth Taber Library.

important school supply of all. Rochester cardholders can access a number of free databases and websites, including Tumblebooks, Optimal Resume, and Encyclopedia Britannica. Cardholders can also check out books, magazines, DVDs, CDs, Wii games, and museum passes. There's a lot happening at Plumb Library, and the best part for both children and parents – in these economic times – is that it's all free with a library card.

Getting a library card is easy. Come to the library with your current ID and sign up. The $2 lost card replacement fee will be waived during the month of September for Rochester cardholders.

Observed since 1987, Library Card Sign-up Month is a time when the American Library Association (ALA) and libraries across the country remind parents that a library card is the most important school supply of all. For more information on how to sign up for a library card, visit your town's library or website.

• Storytimes – Registration for the fall session of both Preschool and Toddler storytimes will start Monday September 13, and end Saturday, September 25. Due to space limitations, pre-registration is required for this program. Plumb storytimes consist of interactive book read-alouds, fingerplays, action rhymes, crafts, and a snack. Sessions run for eight weeks and are free, thanks to the support of the Friends of Plumb Library. To register your child, please come into the library or call 508-763-8600 during the registration period and during library hours. Preference is given to Rochester residents. Non-residents will be put on a waiting list and will be called if space is available. Preschool storytime for ages three to five will take place on Wednesdays at 10:30 and 1:30 pm, and will start on October 6. Toddler story times for ages two to three will take place on Fridays at 10:30 am, and will start on October 8.

• Cafe Parlez Goes to the Movies will be reading Lost Horizon, by James Hilton. Deep in the Tibetan wilderness, a plane with four passengers crashes near an ancient lamasery. But their arrival in this land of eerie beauty and total tranquility is no accident. This is the fantasy classic that put the term "Shangri-La" into the world's vocabulary. Made into a movie in 1937, it starred Ronald Colman, Jane Wyatt, and was directed by Frank Capra. We will discuss this classic on Thursday, September 30 at 6:30 pm. Books and copies of the film are available at the circulation desk.

• Just the Facts, the Nonfiction Book Discussion Group, will have its first meeting on Monday, October 18 at 6:30 pm. The group will be discussing The Gardner Heist: The True Story of the World's Largest Unsolved Art Theft, by Ulrich Boser. Books will be available starting September 13, and pre-registration is requested. For the full schedule of titles for 2010-2011, visit www.plumblibrary.com.

Disabled American Veterans Seminar

So many veterans feel confused about benefits and services they've earned. There's so much to know and so many changes from one year to the next. That's why local members of the nonprofit Disabled American Veterans (DAV) will present a veterans information seminar to be held September 28 from 5:00 to 9:00 pm at the VFW Hall, Four Phoenix Post, 109 Middle Street, Fairhaven, Massachusetts. Like all DAV services, this seminar is free to all veterans and members of their families.

For further information, please contact NSO Richard J. Vaccari at 401-223-3695.
